Event dedicated to International Women’s Day- Award Ceremony of the ‘Christiana Kouta’ Prize	An event open to both the university and the wider local community was held to celebrate International Women’s Day, co-organised by the EUt+ Coordination Office, the Diversity & Inclusion Office, and the University’s Equality Committee, during which the “Christiana Kouta” Award was presented. The award was given to Associate Professor Maria G. Antoniou in recognition of her significant contribution, honoring the legacy of Christiana Kouta and the university’s commitment to equality, inclusion, and diversity.	12/03/2025	https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1CMd3TyXfp/
EUt+ Summer Bootcamp	The winning team of the first EUt+ Incubation Program, Rhythm Touch (From Romania), visited Cyprus for an immersive week of innovation, collaboration, and cultural exchange, engaging with both the university and the wider local community. Through meetings with industry experts, visits to innovation hubs, and public presentations—including at the School for the Deaf and the MedFestival—they actively showcased their wearable technology, receiving valuable feedback while demonstrating its social impact in real-life settings. The visit strengthened connections between academia, industry, and society, as the team interacted with local organisations, businesses, and community groups, fostering dialogue, potential collaborations, and greater awareness around inclusive innovation and accessibility.	30/06/2025 - 04/07/2025	1) https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1EyH7u2s6z/ 2) https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1CM2ji6pS3/

Boomers, Zoomers, and Boardrooms	The event “Boomers, Zoomers & Boardrooms” brought together members of the university, industry professionals, and the wider local community to explore how different generations can collaborate, coexist, and drive innovation in the workplace. Through a keynote speech and an interactive panel discussion, participants exchanged perspectives on diversity, adaptability, and the evolving work culture, highlighting how generational differences can become a source of strength and creativity. Co-organised by ICC Cyprus Women and the EUt+ Research Office (ERO), the event fostered meaningful dialogue between academia, professionals, and the public, strengthening the connection between the university and society while encouraging inclusive and forward-thinking approaches to collaboration and leadership.	25/09/2025	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) https://www.facebook.com/share/p/18PmS7ReDk 2) https://www.facebook.com/share/p/14WJojVqNgb/ 3) https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1811WASeuv/
European Day of Languages	Erasmus Days brought together students and members of the local community in a vibrant, inclusive event where participants shared their international experiences and inspired others to explore opportunities abroad. Through open discussions, live broadcasting by CUTradio, and interactive activities, attendees actively engaged with the message of the “IN-Taboo” campaign, highlighting that every learning style and personal journey matters. The event fostered a strong connection between the university and the wider community, encouraging dialogue on learning diversity while inviting everyone to share their perspectives—such as how they learn best—creating a welcoming and participatory environment beyond the campus.	26/09/2025	https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1CDfaw8PsL/
We do not all learn in the same way – Storytelling	The event “We Do Not All Learn in the Same Way – Storytelling as an Educational Approach” brought together members of the university and the wider local community to explore the power	15/10/2025	https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1C3BsmJQC3/

as an educational approach	of storytelling as a tool for learning and communication, featuring guest speaker Yolanda Tsoroni-Georgiadis. Organized by the Learning Development Network of the Cyprus University of Technology and the EUt+ Coordination Office, the event promoted inclusive education and highlighted the value of recognising diverse learning styles. Open to the public as part of the “EUt+ IN-Taboo” campaign, the event encouraged active participation and dialogue between educators, students, and community members, strengthening the connection between the university and society while fostering awareness around inclusive and accessible learning practices.
Molos 360o - Look Again	Students from the Department of Communication and Internet Studies at the Cyprus University of Technology presented the outcomes of the project “Molos 360°: Look Again,” engaging both the university and local community in exploring perceptions and practices related to waste management at the Limassol Molos Seafront Park. Through the presentation of their research and a 360° video developed through the course “ESD445: Design for Social Impact,” participants were encouraged to reflect on their everyday behaviors and actively contribute to discussions on more sustainable community practices. The event, co-organised with the course instructors and supported by the EUt+ European Research Office (ERO), also highlighted the importance of initiatives that connect the university with society, fostering dialogue, collaboration, and environmental awareness while promoting meaningful social impact.	19/12/25	https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1AiiZy7SMi/
